

Little ones need her
When boo-boos they get
When tears fill their eyes
They have nothing to fret

Her tenderness and care
Soothes a broken heart
And numerous small issues
That set her apart

A single hug or kiss
Will heal such woes
Such are the little ones
That make her heart glow

Not only the children
But grown up kids too
Look to her for guidance
To ask of her view

And still of the older
Who need her so much
She is able to accomplish
Things others will not touch

A well rounded person
To meet all the needs
Of grandkids and children
And husbands indeed

A lover of children
A lover of house
A lover of family
A lover of spouse
